

Announcing Avenel by Chenoa Information Services, the first comprehensive, intelligent forms management and completion software solution for the Financial services community.

Avenel significantly reduces total cost of operations by streamlining the process of client data collection, forms completion and management. With our Service Oriented Architecture (SOA) framework, enterprises can integrate Avenel into their existing systems and our configurable engine eliminates the need for end-users to be trained or have specific forms knowledge. Imagine a system that drastically reduces the need for an administrator or customer service representative to collect client information and to determine the required forms.

AVENEL reduces per transaction cost by:

- ◆ Eliminating redundant data collection from end-users
- ◆ Lowering back-office support needs
- ◆ Ensuring compliance both custodian and regulatory
- ◆ Simplifying the incorporation of new or changed forms
- ◆ Intelligent routing of forms for document management
- ◆ Automatically add promotional and regulatory materials to completed forms
- ◆ Provides open standards based interfaces to accept data electronically from any source

Avenel is one component of our overall forms management framework solution, F2M that offers our clients forms workflow, management and delivery. F2M is a strategic framework solution that is driven by business needs and operations coupled with intelligent technology design.
